The FairShare Model

FairShares is an approach and guideline that allows groups of people to share power and money in a sustainable and fairer way. This guide is suitable for all types of endeavors, in which individuals with different values and goals work together in a company, association or NGO. When implemented, all stakeholders that are involved in the endeavor will negotiate power and wealth sharing arrangements to assure a sustainable and fair growth of their undertaking. This benefits all stakeholder groups and discourages egoism and a very hierarchical organizational structure.

Presenting the Platform

Our FairShares Platform <http://fairsharesplatform.eu>, allows you to implement and work through the FairShares approach with other people. The platform attracts individuals to join projects or founders to connect to customers. It is a place to talk about your project and a place to assure that a project adheres to the FairShares principles.

Once you have worked through a project on the FairShares Planner on the FairShares Platform with others, it will allow you to come back and check upon the principles and rules set up. Maybe even run through the FairShares Canvass to assure that the endeavor still adheres to the principles and that everyone is still treated fairly.

But first it is a place for arguing, communication, collaboration and developing a very unique and fair way to assure that everything you and your stakeholders are coherent to your own moral codex. If it does not, the platform will help you to find people and solutions to these problems. We are a growing community and ready to help.

FairSharesLab

About the Project

The FairShares Labs project seeks to spread a novel solution to economic and environmental challenges. Six cooperating partners from 5 European countries implement workshops and accelerators called FairShares Labs in their respected countries for anyone that would like to invest, found, work or consume fairer and more sustainable.

Fairshares Labs

FairShares Labs are real or virtual co-working spaces in each partner countries that provide communication facilities, workshops, training, tools and support to social enterprise start-ups.

Fairshares Platform And Planner

The Platform is an interactive E-learning and project development website housing dynamic online courses and educational material. In addition, it provides a way to cooperate between the partners. The Planner on the Platform is an interactive cooperating working-tool, which guides the stakeholder groups through the process of generating a fairer undertaking of social businesses.

Co-funded by the
Erasmus+ Programme
